

WAYS TO TAKE TITLE IN ARIZONA:

COMMUNITY PROPERTY (MARRIED COUPLES ONLY):

Arizona is a community property state. This means that, by statue, all property acquired during a marriage is presumed to be community property, except that acquired by gift, descent, devise, or unless another form of ownership is expressly stated.

COMMUNITY PROPERTY WITH RIGHT OF SURVIVORSHIP (MARRIED COUPLES ONLY):

Co-ownership by a married couple when expressly stated in the vesting document. Upon the death of one spouse, title vests in the surviving spouse without the need for probate proceedings.

JOINT TENANTS WITH RIGHT OF SURVIVORSHIP:

Co-ownership between individuals in which title to a decedent’s interest passes to the surviving joint tenants without the need for probate proceedings. The last surviving joint tenant acquires full title to the property.

TENANTS IN COMMON: Co-ownership between individuals and/or entities who do not have survivorship rights. Each party owns a specific, undivided interest in the property. If fractional interests are stated, they must total 100%. If interests are not stated, equal shares are presumed.

SOLE AND SEPARATE (MARRIED INDIVIDUAL ONLY):

Refers to real property acquired by a spouse prior to marriage or acquired after marriage by gift, descent or devise, or by expressly stated intent. When a married person acquires title as sole and separate property, his/her spouse must execute a disclaimer deed.

SINGLE: Refers to an individual who has never been married.

UNMARRIED: Refers to an individual who has been, but is not currently married.

TRUST: Title can be vested in individuals or entities acting as trustees pursuant to a written trust agreement.

CORPORATIONS/PARTNERSHIPS/LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES: Title to real property can also be vested in entities that are duly formed and in good standing. Such entities include corporations, general partnerships, limited partnerships and limited liability companies.

Your Trusted Real Estate Partner

Licensed since 2004, I bring over two decades of in-depth real estate experience to every transaction. Whether you're a first-time homebuyer, seasoned investor, or looking to sell, I offer expert guidance tailored to your unique goals. As a full-time, top-tier agent at Russ Lyon Sotheby's, I consistently close around 30 transactions annually and take pride in helping families find their perfect fit. In the past 3 years, I've sold over $35 million in volume—a reflection of my clients' trust, and the negotiating expertise and service that keep them coming back.

My marketing approach? It's personal, creative, and always evolving. From eye-catching postcards to memorable pop-by gifts and creative collaborations with local businesses, I ensure your property stands out. I offer exclusive tools and thoughtful touches to every client as a thank-you for choosing me—because first-class marketing leads to first-class results. My robust social media presence and creative cross-promotions continue to provide daily added exposure.

What truly sets me apart is my unwavering commitment to customer service. I'm available 24/7, respond quickly to every call, text, and email, and treat every client like family. With over 100 five-star reviews and countless testimonials, I'm proud of the trust I've earned and the relationships I've built. My greatest reward comes from past client testimonials that reflect the loyalty, care, and dedication I bring to each relationship.

Real estate isn't just my job—it's my passion. I'd be honored to guide you through your next move and show you why so many of my clients become clients for life.

BUYING PROCESS

In the buying process there are several things to consider before and after your offer has been accepted by the seller. Here is an overview of the entire process.

KEY REAL ESTATE TERMS FOR BUYERS

APPRAISAL: A valuation of property by the estimate of an appraiser. The appraiser can use any number of valuation methods to determine the appropriate value, including the current market value of similar properties, quality of property, and valuation models.

ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE: The yearly interest percentage of a loan, as expressed by the actual rate of interest paid. The A.P.R. is disclosed as a requirement of federal truth-in lending statutes.

CLOSING STATEMENT: An all-inclusive summary itemizing debits and credits to each party, Seller and Buyer, and presented in the form of a balance sheet.

DEPOSIT: Money given by the Buyer with an offer to purchase. Shows good faith.

ESCROW: A procedure in which a third party acts as a stakeholder for both the Buyer and the Seller, carrying out both parties' instructions and assuming responsibility for handling all the paperwork and distribution of funds.

ESCROW ACCOUNT: Account held by Lender for payment of taxes, homeowner's insurance, and other periodic debts against real property required to protect their security interest.

MORTGAGE: The instrument by which real estate is pledged as security for the repayment of a loan.

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE (MLS): The MLS is a repository of information on homes for sale. The MLS is also a means by which Broker participants make offers of compensation to other Broker participants for bringing a ready, willing, and able Buyer for the property.

PITI: Payment that combines the Principal, Interest, Taxes, and Insurance.

TITLE INSURANCE: There are generally two title insurance policies issued at close of escrow, Owner's Title Insurance and the Lender's Title Insurance. The Owner's policy is an insurance policy that protects the homeowner from defects in the title to the home, such as a forged deed. The Lender's policy protects the Lender against the same sort of title defects until the loan is paid.
